00:31:49 Vini Vilela: Vini Vilela - Toronto, Canada

I love waking up every single day to find ways to help people eliminate complacency and build plans to achieve their dreams. And I do that through simple and systematic financial education.

I work with families and entrepreneurs who are experiencing doubt that they are moving in the right direction financially, so they can get more clarity and peace of mind about their future, and the right financial products.

I am growing my agency and I am looking for strategic partnerships to scale my business in Canada and in the US.

Hi Kareen, I have a lot of experience in working with retailers to put great products on their shelves. Most recently, I grew a kids education brand to 4 times its original size in just 2 years. Let's connect and see if there's room to work together. I'd love to help your brand and product explode, for the kids 😊

Hi everyone! I'm Natalia Stewart, founder of MicroDays and Amplify Partners.

MicroDays is a small-batch psilocybin and functional mushroom brand based in BC, created from my passion for plant medicine, natural healing, and making microdosing more accessible. After spending more than 15 years in the cannabis industry, I saw firsthand how plant medicine moved from the margins into the mainstream and recognized a similar opportunity emerging in the mushroom space.

Alongside MicroDays, I run Amplify Partners, where I work with founders and brands on strategy, branding, marketing, creative direction, and project management.

I'm looking for investors to move MicroDays into the legal market.
